

Terms of Service

To participate in Cyclor4Ever, you must be at least 18 y/o and have an appropriate e-wallet, and a VALID and fully functional email address.

All donations are given willingly and are final. Refunds are simply not possible.

Cyclor4Ever is just an automated "middleman" who routes a donation from the donator to the receiver.

Cyclor4Ever makes no profit, and makes no commission on the donation transfers.

You donate by purchasing a position, and for this purchase you pay in the selected digital currency, with usual transfer from your e-wallet.

Payments are processed by CoinPayments, which generates a "send to" address when you initiate a purchase.

Successful payment completion is your sole responsibility, and CoinPayments as the receiver of the payment.

We can not influence that process in any way.

Once CoinPayments receive your payment, they let us know and only then we can grant you that position that you have "ordered".

Withdrawals are cashed out to your e-wallet, to the "receive" address that you enter when you sign up.

It is your sole responsibility to have the address entered correctly, and that your e-wallet is active and you have access to it.

Once your account has an active position in the first matrix, it is NOT POSSIBLE to delete or remove your account!

Not by yourself, nor by us as the administrator of the platform! So think twice before you activate!

You can edit your account in such a way that it does not reflect your personal identity if you wish, including changing your email address, but the new email address HAS to be functional all the time!

There is no way around this, because if you ever wish to login again, system requires your email address to work, so for that reason you must have a working email address even if you don't want to use your account any more.

If there is any activity on your account, you will still receive email on your email address, no way around that! You can't unsubscribe from these status notification emails.

We don't send any newsletters or marketing campaigns to you, but you may receive some very important information regarding the Cycler4Ever platform if we need to share it with you directly.

If you don't want those emails to clutter your main inbox, make a separate inbox and a filter that will route those emails to that separate folder.

We make no claims on how much money you can make with our program. Your ability to earn depends on a number of factors, including where and how you advertise the program, and the motivation and ability of those in your downlines to make new referrals Individual results will vary. It's all up to you, and other platform participants.
